

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
X-NTH JOINS TROW GLOBAL

Brampton, Ontario – December 15, 2009 – Vlad Stritesky, President and CEO of Trow Global, a Canadian firm of engineers and consultants headquartered in Brampton, Ontario, and Bill Beckman, CEO of X-nth, an international consulting firm to the building industry headquartered in Orlando, Florida, today announced the merger of these two firms.

“An impressive depth of expertise, extensive experience throughout the world, and a matching culture, makes X-nth a great addition to Trow Global and the family of companies,” said Mr. Stritesky. “The addition of X-nth is Trow Global’s largest expansion into the U.S. and establishes Trow Global as one of the strongest engineering teams in North America with more than 800 in-house team members in the Buildings sector. We are all very excited about the opportunities that lie ahead with X-nth.”

“Joining Trow Global will strengthen our market presence in the U.S. and abroad,” said Mr. Beckman. “Our complementary strengths will enhance the depth of services we can offer to our clients, helping them achieve success.”

The primary focus of X-nth will continue to be strategic consulting and value-added building systems engineering in the Entertainment, Gaming, Healthcare, Hospitality, Mission Critical and SciTech markets. X-nth will continue to operate under its current name as a Trow Global company.
