Chief Executive Conference
Agenda: Thursday, September 29, 2022

Breakfast Meet-and-Greet

Session 1: AEC Industry Overview: Critically Assessing the Data
The AEC industry has seen a rapid recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and is expected to weather current and future macroeconomic challenges well. At the same time, what has driven success over the last 25 years will not necessarily be the same drivers for the next 25, and we see firms beginning to reassess their market position and business models in preparation. During this session, EFCG will share the results of the 2022 CEO Survey and discuss the major trends that are likely to fundamentally change the AEC industry going forward.

Presenter: Rebecca Zofnass, EFCG Managing Partner

CEO of the Year Announcement

Lunch

EFCG is the leading advisor to AEC firms
In the last 33 years, we have served as a retained advisor to over 500 firms, developed a proprietary database of financial and business metrics from our clients, held nearly 100 executive conferences, and built personal relationships with the CEOs and key decision makers at every major AEC firm and the largest PE firms investing in the AEC space.
Session 3: In the Spotlight Keynote: Sustainability on the Global Stage
Environmental and social impacts have taken center stage in the AEC industry. The US Congress just passed the Inflation Reduction Act as sustainability, climate and ESG services are facing a 17% y-o-y growth within the EC consulting market and ESG reporting is becoming a common agenda item in executive meetings. Firms focused on sustainability see higher profit margins, increases in their valuations, and the advantage when hiring new talent. On the other hand, firms that have not yet acted face potential cost deficits and “left-behind” reputational impacts. How can leaders act today to drive a more sustainable and profitable future for their firms? What is the real opportunity for our industry? In this keynote session, panelists from prominent firms paving the way in sustainability will discuss these questions and their firms’ roles in realizing that vision.

Moderator: Andreas Georgoulias, EFCG Director of Sustainability & ESG

Panelists:
Bob Pragada, President & CEO-Elect, Jacobs
Cindy Wallis-Lage, Executive Director of Sustainability and Resilience, Black & Veatch
Gord Johnston, President & CEO, Stantec
Jim Giannopoulos, CEO, Americas, GHD

Session 4: Mergers & Acquisitions: Transactions and Trends
EFCG will share the latest AEC Industry M&A trends and multiples. Then, leadership from two major deals that took place in the last year – the WSP Global / Wood E&I and TRC Companies / Warburg Pincus transactions – will share their learnings from the deal process and why they ultimately chose to partner with the firms they did.

Presenter and Moderator: Jessica Barclay, EFCG Managing Partner

Panelists:
Alexandre L’Heureux, President & CEO, WSP Global
Jim Neary, Managing Director, Co-Head of US Private Equity, Warburg Pincus
Chris Vincze, Chairman & CEO, TRC Companies
Joseph Sczurko, President, Earth & Environment, WSP USA

Session 5: Breakouts (See session descriptions and panelists on Page 11)

Session 5A: How AI + Big Data Will Transform the AEC Industry
Presenter: Hank Tran, Director, AI & Analytics, BST Global

Session 5B: Turning Business Tensions Into Business Opportunities
Presenter: Chuck Leichner, EFCG Senior Advisor

Session 5C: How to Grow and Keep Your Talent Pool
Moderator: Julie Hasiba, EFCG Managing Partner
Session 6: Innovation Culture Counterbalance: Move Fast, Don’t Break Things
As AEC firms increasingly work to build creative high-performance cultures, many feel the swelling tension between accelerating innovation and preserving the traditional engineering mindset. Panelists in this session will openly discuss the challenge of working through this tension, and how they’ve found ways to use an innovation culture to build, not break, their business and unlock more value for their clients.

Presenter and Moderator: Marcus Quigley, EFCG Partner & Technology Practice Lead

Panelists:
Bruce Crawford, Senior Vice President - Chief of Innovation and Director of the Global Digital Center of Excellence (GDCoE), Jacobs
Bryan Carruthers, CEO, Anser
Javier A. Baldor, CEO, BST Global

Breakfast Reconnect

Session 7: CEO Lessons Learned
In this candid conversation, CEOs will reflect on the biggest challenges they have faced in their roles and share the key lessons learned and actionable takeaways gained from those experiences.

Moderator: Jessica Barclay, EFCG Managing Partner

Panelists:
Kate Harris, President, CEO & Chair, Stanley Consultants
Mark Fallon, Chairman & CEO, APTIM
Raj Arora, CEO, Jensen Hughes

Session 8: How to Bring Tech and Talent Together to Win the Talent War
Technology and talent are two of the biggest challenges firms are facing today, as talent is getting scarcer and firms feel the pressure to become a center of technology excellence and innovation. These pressures are two of the greatest ones impacting the AEC Industry. Yet, often, they are addressed independently. Firms that figure out how to turn these demands into complementary strategic initiatives stand to provide a captivating employee experience and deliver greater results to their clients. During this session, EFCG will provide insights on ways to bring technology and talent strategies together. Then panelists will speak to how they are making fundamental strategic shifts to adapt.

Presenters and Moderators: Julie Hasiba, EFCG Managing Partner and Marcus Quigley, EFCG Partner & Technology Practice Lead

Panelists:
Gayle Packer, President & CEO, Terracon
Jens-Peter Saul, Group President & CEO, Ramboll

Session 10: Key Steps for Post-Merger Integration Success
The success or failure of an M&A transaction is ultimately determined by its post-merger integration strategy, which makes it imperative to get that strategy right. During this closing session, EFCG will discuss how to set up an integration process that can achieve the anticipated benefits of a deal efficiently. Firms with significant experience in post-merger integration strategy will then talk about their learnings along the way and provide practical steps on how to create sustainable, long-term value using a collaborative integration approach.

Session 5: Breakouts

Session 5A: How AI + Big Data Will Transform the AEC Industry

Artificial intelligence, machine learning and big data are the emerging technologies reshaping just about every industry today. This session will examine the unique opportunity to leverage these technologies in the AEC industry and foster the data-driven consultancy of the future, which is built on project intelligence™ and powered by predictive analytics. Learn how to get this innovation journey started at your own firm.

Presenter: Hank Tran, Director, AI & Analytics, BST Global

Session 5B: Turning Business Tensions Into Business Opportunities

While your executive team may be well-aligned with your strategy, operating plan, and overall performance goals, tensions can occur in your business (sometimes by design) that limit your firm’s success and ability to realize its full potential. These could include short-term results versus long-term positioning, revenue growth versus profitability, and company priorities versus local office priorities. This session will provide participants with a method of reconciling business tensions that capitalizes on the strengths of each competing option to help the firm become even stronger and more competitive.

Presenter: Chuck Leichner, EFCG Senior Advisor

Session 5C: How to Grow and Keep Your Talent Pool

Much has changed with the workplace environment as firms continue to see a wider range of employee priorities and preferences take shape. Firms struggle to keep up with the evolving demands and, consequently, face talent acquisition and employee engagement challenges. Despite all this, panelists joining this session represent firms that have been especially successful with recruitment and retention in recent years compared to peers. These leaders will share what their firms have focused on to realize success in their talent strategies.

Moderator: Julie Hasiba, EFCG Managing Partner

Panelists:
Brian Coltharp, President & CEO, Freese and Nichols
Jeff Peacock, CEO, Parametrix
Terry Neimeyer, Senior Advisor and Past Chairman, CEO & President, KCI Technologies

Session 9A: How Technology Drives Business Success
Hear best practices and top ways to fully leverage the technology you’re investing in and how this can fundamentally change operations and project delivery.

Presenter: Michael Bourgeois, Vice President of Solutions Engineering, Deltek

Session 9B: Valuations and Internal Ownership Transitions
This session will look at what’s currently impacting valuations and how this influences the way a firm needs to address its ownership transition planning. EFCG will walk through the “valuation conundrum” of employee-owned firms, the major considerations firms need to weigh when conducting valuations, and how to best approach internal ownership transitions. Panelists will join to talk about their own experience and what key decisions they made, leaving attendees with ideas for how they can proactively move forward in their own planning.

Moderator: Vishal Menon, EFCG Advisory Consultant

Panelists:
- Catherine Karakatsanis, COO & Board Member, Morrison Hershfield
- Jim Haynes, CEO, POWER Engineers
- Mike Hutchinson, CEO, GeoEngineers

Session 9C: Measuring and Reporting on ESG Impact: Where to Start and What to Prioritize
Environmental, Social and Governance, or ESG in common, provides a framework for EC firms to measure and communicate their impact. Client demands, investor pressure and strategic foresight have led several EC firms to adopt or establish their own ESG frameworks and issue an annual ESG report. Many more are considering doing so in the immediate future. How should a firm approach ESG? Should a firm prioritize one dimension among others? Which metrics and what messages should firms include when reporting on their ESG benchmarking? How can EC firms leaders build momentum, capitalize on the impact of their ESG efforts, and lead their firms in a rapidly evolving landscape?

Presenter: Andreas Georgoulas, EFCG Director of Sustainability & ESG
